

- Charming, accessible poems with a strong family theme
- Tribute to a generation who lived through two World Wars
- Narrated by the author
- Available worldwide in audiobook and paperback editions

Audiobook details

ISBN: 978-1-912340-01-9

Author: Vicky Arthurs

Publisher: Cedarbird

Category: Poetry

Format: Digital audiobook (MP3)

Availability: Worldwide

Price: £5.00

Pub. Date: 26 Sept 2017

LIMEHAVEN: Poems for my grandparents

Vicky Arthurs

This evocative poetry audiobook celebrates the bond between young and old, capturing time spent together and wonders shared. Inspired by childhood memories of her grandparents, Vicky Arthurs' vivid poems explore themes of love, war, nature and innocence. Some poems are seen through the eyes of a child, while others are remembrances and re-imaginings of her grandparents' lives.

Reviews

"Joyous... There is a gorgeous childlike voice to these poems, peppered with songs, rhymes and humour." Envoi

"Powerful, emotive and personal." Living North

"The best debut collection I've read in ages. This delightful, nostalgic book is a love letter to Vicky's grandparents...". Culture, The Journal

"The language is simple, there is an immediacy here, a freshness... Arthurs' gift for tenderness...is so powerfully demonstrated in this collection." Brittle Star

About the author

Vicky Arthurs is a poet who writes about family life with warmth and charm. She performs her work at festivals and events and has recorded Limehaven as an audiobook. Vicky works in publishing and lives in the north east of England.

Visit www.vickyarthurs.com to download a full media kit or hear audio samples of Vicky reading her poems.